MRS. W. R. CUNNINGHAM
IS NOW CRITICALLY ILL

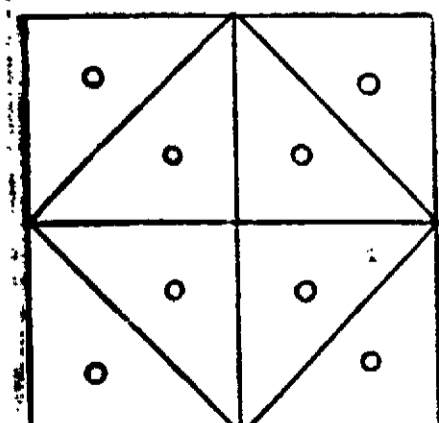

A telegram has been received here announcing the critical illness of Mrs. W. R. Cunningham, of Lynchburg, for more than thirty years a resident of Danville, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John M. Coleman, at Charlottesville. Mrs. Cunningham was visiting her daughter, where she sustained a fall, which later resulted in paralysis of her body from the waist down. The attending physicians hold out little hope of her recovery, and the end is momentarily expected. Mrs. Cunningham has one son living in this city, and a daughter residing in Lynchburg. Mrs. R. H. Mansfield.

DAILY PUZZLE

IN AMERICA I RODE A HORSE, AND SAW NOTHING;
BUT IN EGYPT, WHERE I RODE A CAMEL, MIRAGES WERE OFTEN SEEN.

These were the words of a traveler, who was contrasting various methods of locomotion. He seems to attribute mirages to the pulling gait of a camel, which is a new theory. The interesting feature of his statement, however, is that his words cancel the name of his home city, in New York State; and also the name of the Egyptian city from which he started on his camel journey.

The names are there, in full view. Can you find them?

Yesterday's answer:
The field was divided into eight triangular sections, as shown above. The sections are all of the same size and shape, with a tree in the same position in each section.

"My
is gone—"

"THERE are thousands of you men and women, just like I once was—slaves to rheumatism, muscle pains, joint pains, and horrible stiffness. I had the wrong idea about rheumatism for years. I didn't realize that increasing blood-cells had the effect of completely knocking out rheumatic impurities from the system. That is why I began using S.S.S. Today I have the strength I used to have years ago! I don't use my crutches any more." S.S.S. makes people talk about themselves the way it builds up their strength. Start S.S.S. today for that rheumatism. You'll feel the difference shortly.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

IRISH TRADE DISAPPOINTING

DUBLIN, July 5.—Trade reports covering the commerce of the Irish Free State for the first quarter of 1924 were described as disappointing by Free State authorities, who pointed out that imports totaled £15,948,961 in value, while exports were worth only £10,961,069. With but little exception, the exports were destined to Great Britain or the six R. B. H. A. C. and T. L. Scarce, of Ulster counties.

Dry Fork

DRY FORK, Va., July 5.—The people of Dry Fork witnessed one of the dullest Independence Days this time that has ever been known. George Murphy says it was the dullest he has ever seen and that he bets he has seen a thousand.

Weather conditions are very favorable to farming in this immediate section at the present. The recent rains have not lasted long enough to damage the wheat crop and all growing crops are looking very much better. Some of the small tobacco is budding out, which is said to be a sign of a good crop. The cotton, corn and all kinds of vegetable crops are also looking fine.

Senator From Va. Polls 78 Votes On 82nd

McAdoo calls for action by the convention itself to compel unconditional release of the McAdoo delegates. The other counter proposal advanced by Mr. McAdoo, provides, in conjunction with the release of delegates, for abrogation of the unit voting and two-thirds nominating rules, progressive elimination from each successive ballot of the candidate receiving the lowest vote, and full strength voting by state delegations, regardless of how many members may be absent.

At a session of the conference which ended early today subject to call, the McAdoo proposal received no support from any other quarter.

It was not made clear whether a simple majority or a two-thirds vote would be necessary for the convention to act on either proposal, or whether it could merely express a desire one way or another.

The line-up behind the two proposals in the conference proved to be representative of the solidified divergence which appeared in the concluding sessions of Saturday's session, which put Smith up to 268 votes on the 76th and left him at the finish on the 77th with 367, exactly the number required to block a nomination under the two-thirds rule.

McAdoo's counter-proposal was being considered by the conference, Mr. McAdoo in an address before a rally of delegates who had supported him throughout the six days of balloting, declared he would feel like the most comfortable traitor alive if he "deserted" them at this time, and "must stay and fight to the finish so as not to betray a trust" he was in the race, he said, to "carry out the mandate of the people" expressed in primary elections and caucuses.

A resolution pledging the delegates anew to the support of the Californian, was adopted after his address, which had been received by about an hour's discussion during which almost every mention of his name was wildly cheered, and plans were advanced to organize his women supporters more closely to work for his nomination. The rally in the afternoon was held in the McAdoo campaign headquarters, but by leaders in various State delegations.

The question of selecting a compromise candidate was kept in the background, and the possible ways out of the difficulty during all of the week-end conferences, and after the adjournment early today. Chairman Hull asserted that such a plan would be taken up only as a final resort, and that the convention should give specific authority for its consideration. None of those taking part, he said, "considered it our function to discuss any compromise candidate."

The initiative in the proposal for releasing candidates was taken by the representatives of the fourteen candidates in the favorite son class, including Senator Glass of Virginia, Senator Underwood of Alabama, Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Former Senator Joseph E. Ransdell of New York, Governor John W. Davis, Governor Ritchie of Maryland, Senator Ferris of Michigan, James M. Cox of Ohio, Gov. Bryan of Nebraska, Gov. Brown of New Hampshire, and Governor John W. Davis. The proposal later was signed by Gov. Smith in person and with fifteen candidates behind it, including McAdoo's chief contender and holder of a one-third vote power in the convention, it was regarded as placing the Californian at a disadvantage regardless of what action he might take. His representatives in the conference who already had obtained a one-hour recess for consultation, were given another three-hour period and when the meeting reassembled, they presented the counter proposal worked out with their leader. After the conference adjourned, with the other fifteen candidates working on their own proposal and against the McAdoo candidates, Chairman Hull explained that "the convention can take any action which it may see fit on this or any other suggestion that may be made from other sources."

When the conference would be reconvened, he said, depended on "what progress can be made by group conferences from time to time."

"The candidates," said Mr. Hull, "have the undoubted right to release their own delegates without any action by the convention. The fifteen candidates who signed the proposal will stand by their action regardless of what Mr. McAdoo does."

Earlier in the day, Smith leaders had asserted that the releasing of delegates was not necessary so far as they were concerned, since none had ever been bound to their standard and all of the governor's supporters had been at liberty throughout the ballot to express their preference.

Much of yesterday's discussion was marked by considerable bitterness, although none of the details leaked out of the closely-guarded meeting room. To observers, however, the immediate effect of the developments appeared to be a further crystallization of the anti-McAdoo sentiment irrespective of varied preference to candidates, in the belief that, with the Californian eliminated from the balloting, the convention would be able to publish a choice.

Some of the McAdoo people went into the session believing that little had been accomplished and that after a parliamentary wrangle the situation would revert to the status of Saturday.

Norman E. Mack, one of the floor managers for Gov. Smith, said he saw no change in the situation except that he believed some of the McAdoo delegations were showing signs of disintegration. The Smith forces were standing firm, McAdoo leaders expressed the same sentiment in reverse fashion.

All sorts of opinions were expressed as the delegate assembly, the most unanimous one was that it was going to be a "hot" one.

The many canvasses conducted on the floor to find out where the favorite son delegates were going to be, developed only a faint sentiment of the individual delegates seemed to be to stand with their native sons.

Former Gov. Brough of the Arkansas delegation, said the delegates were "with him" (Robinson) first, last and all the time. The six from Delaware said they realized they were free to choose, having been released, but that their individual preference was for Robinson. Missed the delegation protested that they would stay with McAdoo; Louisiana just as firmly intended to stick with John W. Davis.

Gov. Sweet of Colorado, added a touch of enlightenment to the situation by saying, "We all realize it is a case of cat and dog fight."

The New York forces were working tooth and nail to pull the scattered forces of the minority over to Gov. Smith.

At 11:36 daylight time Chairman Walsh stepped for order. The Rev. Wm. L. Phillips, assistant rector of

VOTE WILL BE TAKEN TODAY BY SOCIALISTS ON COMMITTEE REPORT

Progressive Convention Enters Second Day—Endorsement of La Follette and Platform as Outlined Is Called For—Outlines Their Object.

(By The Associated Press.)

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 7.—The socialist party of America went into the second day of its national convention here confronted with the task of debating and voting upon a report from a special committee of 15 recommending that it endorse the independent presidential candidacy of Senator Robert M. La Follette.

The committee report made six specific recommendations, as follows: First: That this convention concur in the endorsement by the conference for progressive political action of the presidential candidacy of Senator La Follette on the platform submitted by him.

The convention however, specifically declares that the socialist party firmly adheres to the cardinal principles of socialism as set forth in the platform and declaration of principles adopted at this and previous conventions of the socialist party.

Second: That the socialist party request an increased representation at the enlarged national committee of the conference.

Fourth: That in the coming campaign the socialist party corporate with the conference in the national elections and in all such state and local elections in which independent action is deemed to be in the best interest of the socialist party organization.

Third: That the socialist party request an increased representation at the enlarged national committee of the conference.

Then, as part of the same report, the clerk read McAdoo's letter and counter proposal which included the abrogation of the unit rule and progressive elimination of the low candidate on succeeding ballots and including the right of delegates remaining to cast the votes of those who have gone home.

McAdoo previously published the exact text of the phrase "any plan for breaking this deadlock which does not accomplish the purpose will disappoint the expectations of the McAdoo proposal was rejected, the report said, although some of the representatives of the fifteen expressed willingness to assent to some features of it.

At the conclusion of the reading, Gavin McNab, of California, asked to know about previous rulings of the chair regarding the unit rule. A delegate from Texas wanted to know if it was true that Mr. Houston had released his delegates.

Then Bruce Kremer, of Montana, a McAdoo man, moved the suspension of the rules so both sets of proposals could be referred to the rules committee for report.

Chairman Hull explained that "the convention can take any action which it may see fit on this or any other suggestion that may be made from other sources."

On an aye and no vote, the motion to suspend the rules and refer the proposals to the rules committee, the ayes had it, without a roll call.

Brick and Stucco Home

AMERICAN BUILDER MAG.

FRONT VIEW AND PLANS OF $12,000 HOME.

The permanency of brick, its availability in nearly all parts of the United States, the ease with which it is combined with other materials and ruggedness of brick construction combine to make it a favorite material.

This combination of brick with stucco in the gables and a tile roof is particularly pleasing and is a construction which should insure durability. The covered entry porch and the variations in the windows are largely responsible for the pleasing exterior.

Entrance to the commodious interior is effected through the reception hall, containing the stairs. This divides the long living-room with the adjoining sun porch from the rest of the first floor, arranged for the most efficient operation of the dining-room and kitchen and providing for a maid's room and bath and a rear stairway. Four bedrooms of adequate size, all with roomy closets, are provided on the second floor.

The approximate cost for this home is $12,000, although this figure is subject to a wide variation. The quality of materials is regulated in each case by the freight rates from the source to supply, each community has a different wage scale for workmen and the individual demands of the home owner for various features in finishing the home may make the cost price vary thousands of dollars.

FACULTY OF AVERETT COLLEGE FOR 1924-25

When the sixty-sixth session of Averett College opens on September 16, the teachers returning will greet several new teachers. The addition to the faculty of Mr. Ernest P. Hawley, as director of the music department has already been announced. Announcement has also been made of the coming of Miss Barbara J. Rudisill to the music department. Miss Rudisill enjoys the distinction of coming from the directorship of the music department of a Virginia college. Danville and vicinity will be privileged to hear both of these artists in recitals in the early fall.

The college is fortunate in adding two masters of arts to the faculty, though only one teacher with this degree is being lost, namely, Miss Hattie E. Brown, of the high school department. Miss Nell Hodges, of Birmingham, Ala., will assume the duties of the high school principalship. Miss Hodges received the A. B. degree from Howard College and the A. M. degree from the University of Alabama. She has had four years' experience teaching, and is now studying again at the Howard College summer school. She comes to her position at Averett from the history department of Central College (Alabama). Dr. J. H. Foster, retiring president of Central College, recommends Miss Hodges as a number one teacher, "disciplinarian," and states that she "inspires college spirit in the girls and is 100 per cent loyal."

"If I were continuing in the work," he adds, "I would not give her up." A brilliant college instructor has been secured in Miss Mary C. Garland, who will teach Latin. She is an A. B. of Dickinson College, and an A. M. of the University of Michigan. Miss Garland's extraordinary intellectuality is indicated by the following college distinctions received by her: Freshman prize, $100; Pennsylvania scholarship, $400; Pendleton fellowship, $500; member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Since Miss Garland has the master of arts degree, Averett will have five instructors holding this degree, of whom one is in the high school department, and four in the college department. Thus again the plan of the management to advance the standards of Averett College steadily is being effected. The attendance made it necessary to increase the number of teachers in the high school department by one. Miss Mary C. Fugate is the additional teacher.

Miss Fugate is the daughter of Dr. Henry M. Fugate, pastor of the Tenth Avenue Baptist church, of Milledgeville, Ga. Dr. Fugate is a Virginian, and his daughter received the Bachelor of Arts degree from Westhampton College in 1922. For the past two years she has been teaching in the Wakefield, Va., high school.

Miss Fugate enjoyed more than her share of college honors. In her Sophomore year she was class president, a member of the student government council, and the representative of the national convention of the Y. W. C. A., which met in Cleveland, Ohio. As a junior she was the chairman of the religious work department of the Y. W. C. A. business manager of the monthly literary magazine, the Messenger, and the representative to the annual meeting of the Student Government Association of Southern colleges. In her senior year she was president of the Student Government Association, a mem-

CHICHESTER, Eng., July 6.—Do bob-haired bandits, described in cables from America, wash dishes?

No, they don't! Do movie heroines sit down and sew buttons on blouses?

Not so you can notice it! All of which is why Ena Doris Welsh, 17, and Cynthia Stevens, 18, gave themselves, the police, a taxi driver and this staid, sleepy, old Sussex cathedral town the sensation of the year.

You wouldn't expect these mere kids to stir this burg out of its dull English routine, but it was precisely that dullness which moved them to action.

Ena is employed as a domestic servant and Cynthia is apprenticed to a seamstress. Fired by the movies, they decided to drop the mop and the needle. So they called on Tom Perry, a neighborhood shoemaker. Perry was a brave soldier during the war and saw service in France. On the battlefield near Menin he picked up a German revolver. The girls knew he kept the revolver in his desk.

While Cynthia talked to him, Ena cabaged the gun. Thus armed, and with about two dollars between them they set out for London and Life with a capital "L."

At Brighton they hailed a taxi and directed the man to drive them to Patcham. And suddenly it dawned on them, as they saw the taximeter busily working, that they didn't have enough to pay their fare.

And just about that time the driver asked what address in Patcham they wanted.

"I'll sit up beside you and show you," said Ena Welsh promptly.

After she clambered beside him, she ordered him to drive them to London. "But that will cost you £5 and you don't look as if you had that much and—"

He didn't finish his sentence for he found himself looking into the business end of that German revolver.

"Oh, all right, miss, it's London for you," said he.

The taxi man wasn't used to gun-play. It got on his nerves. He lost control of his car and smashed into a lamp post. The girls got out and tried to run away. Cops, attracted by the sounds of smashing glass, caught them.

In the magistrates' court, the police said the girls were given good characters by all who knew them. "We did it from a sense of adventure," said Ena Welsh.

"And we are very sorry now," said Cynthia Stevens.

"Even so, it would have been all right if the taxi hadn't run into that lamp post," said Ena.

The magistrates remanded the girls in custody while they thought over their case and decided what to do with them.

HEILMAN BELIEVED STINNE'S BANK CASHIER

NEW YORK, July 4.—The police today revealed that Anton Heilman, 30 years old, was arrested yesterday when he tried to collect $1,567 from the international acceptance bank of 31 Pine street on a check, which, according to the police, was part of $41,000 in checks stolen from the Hugo Stinnes bank in Hamburg, Germany, several months ago. Heilman was held as a fugitive from Germany.

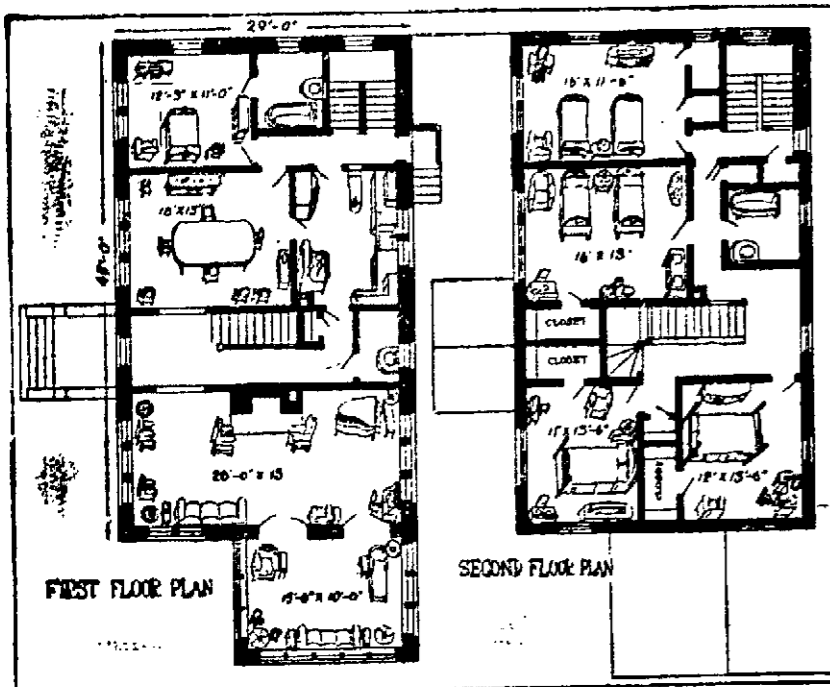

He said he got the check from a man he met on a ship bound for America. This man represented himself as the son of a wealthy farmer, but police believe he was a cashier in the Stinnes bank who absconded with checks to which he forged indorsements.

Heilman said his acquaintance gave him the check to start him in business here. They arrived in America together on June 2, but the other man has since gone to Cuba, Heilman said. Heilman took the check to the bank June 4 and was told to return July 3. Meantime the bank cabled to Germany and ascertained that the indorsement on the check was a forgery. Heilman says he was a merchant of Reval, where he has a wife and two children.

AMERICAN BUILDER MAG.

FRONT VIEW AND PLANS OF $12,000 HOME.

The permanency of brick, its availability in nearly all parts of the United States, the ease with which it is combined with other materials and ruggedness of brick construction combine to make it a favorite material.

This combination of brick with stucco in the gables and a tile roof is particularly pleasing and is a construction which should insure durability. The covered entry porch and the variations in the windows are largely responsible for the pleasing exterior.

Entrance to the commodious interior is effected through the reception hall, containing the stairs. This divides the long living-room with the adjoining sun porch from the rest of the first floor, arranged for the most efficient operation of the dining-room and kitchen and providing for a maid's room and bath and a rear stairway. Four bedrooms of adequate size, all with roomy closets, are provided on the second floor.

The approximate cost for this home is $12,000, although this figure is subject to a wide variation. The quality of materials is regulated in each case by the freight rates from the source to supply, each community has a different wage scale for workmen and the individual demands of the home owner for various features in finishing the home may make the cost price vary thousands of dollars.

FACULTY OF AVERETT COLLEGE FOR 1924-25

When the sixty-sixth session of Averett College opens on September 16, the teachers returning will greet several new teachers. The addition to the faculty of Mr. Ernest P. YANKS BEAT SENATORS.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—New York concluded its five-game series with Washington today with a 7 to 4 victory, its fourth of the lot. In the eighth Ruth hit the ball into the left field bleachers for his 22nd home run of the season. Catcher Ruel, of Washington, was knocked senseless when Hendrick collided with him at the plate in the ninth and had to be removed from the game.

INDIANS DROP ANOTHER.

CHICAGO, July 6.—Cleveland lost another battle with heavy hits to Chicago today, the final score being 9 to 6. Six two-base hits and a triple were recorded.

TIGERS HELPLESS.

DETROIT, July 6.—Danforth held Detroit to three hits here today and St. Louis won the last game of the series, 5 to 1.

SATURDAY'S RESULTS

CLEVELAND PITCHERS WILD AND POUNDED HARD

CHICAGO, July 6.—Chicago hit two of four Cleveland pitchers hard today and won 8 to 7. The play was ragged in spots, with no pitcher in command of the situation. Faber opened for Chicago, but weakened in the 8th, being relieved by Connolly, who held the visitors safe after the two on bases had scored. Fourteen bases on balls were issued in the game.

BOSTON RED SOX

PHILADELPHIA, July 6.—The Boston Red Sox obtained ample revenge for the Independence Day setback when they took both ends of a double header from Philadelphia today, winning the first game 6 to 3 and the second 7 to 2.

SENATORS AND YANKS

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Washington retained its two-game margin of leadership in the pennant race over New York by getting an even break in a double header with the Yankees today.

WHITEHILL TURNS IN 2ND SHUTOUT IN 3 STARTS

DETROIT, July 6.—Earl Whitehill, aided by excellent pitching, pitched Detroit to a shutout victory over St. Louis while his teammates were gaining three runs. It was Whitehill's second shutout in three starts. St. Louis outlived Detroit almost two to one, but could not bunt them.

Yankees Lick Senators; Giants-Phils Split Double Bill

YANKS BEAT SENATORS IN LAST OF SERIES AND ARE ONLY GAME BEHIND

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, July 7.—In the wake of the departed Yankees, whose three-day visit to Washington was as well as a mid-western tornado, peace reigns again today in the nation's capital. Concluding their series with the American League leaders in the whirlwind fashion with which they opened, New York made it four out of five, with a seven to four, ninth inning finish victory. It was a battle of giants, the high spot of which were Ruth's 22nd homer of the season and Hendrick's desperate slide to the plate in the 9th inning, resulting in the knocking out of Catcher Ruel. The triumph enabled the Yankees to open their home stay against the western teams tomorrow, with only one game behind Washington.

Danforth, allowing Detroit but three scattered hits, led St. Louis to an easy 5 to 1 win over the Tigers. Stoner, Cobb's moundman, also pitched well and Manager Sisler materially aided the Browns with a circuit clutch.

Extra base hits featured Chicago's nine to six triumph over the Indians, who dropped to seven place as a result of the defeat. Six two baggers

U. S. ATHLETES STRONGLY FORTIFIED IN 3 OF THE 4 FINALS IN OLYMPICS

(By The Associated Press.)
OLYMPIC STADIUM COLOMBES, FRANCE, July 7.—The United States got together in athletic forces here this afternoon to start a fight to overhaul Finland, which held a commanding lead for the Olympic track and field championships as the second day of the competition began.

Ideal weather conditions promised to favor the Americans who were strongly fortified in three of the four finals to be decided this afternoon. The high jump, the 100 meter sprints and the 400 meter hurdles.

Despite the promise of a day of competition rivaling yesterday's for thrills, the huge stands were sparsely occupied. Less than 2,000 persons were present shortly before the opening event, the 100 meter semi-final.

Jackson V. Scholz, New York, A. C. started America off strongly in the event, capturing the semi-final in three yards from A. Porritt, a New Zealand, who beat Loren Murchison, Newark, A. C. by a foot for second place. Lester C. Gault, New York, A. C. finished second, and Grellie, of France, failed to qualify.

The second semi-final in the 100 meters was won by Harold Abrahamson, the British star, who uncorked a brilliant burst of speed in the last 50 yards, beating Charles Paddock and Chester Bowman, the Americans. The two Yankees finished second and third, however, thus putting all four American sprinters in the finals.

Abrahamson was off to a bad start and was only fifty at the half way mark, but he fairly flew the rest of the distance to Nip Paddock by less than a foot in 10.2 seconds, equalling the Olympic record for the second day in succession. Canada's Gault and E. W. Carr of Australia, finished just outside the qualifiers. It was the greatest sprint race of the games so far, with Frangipane, Italy, the other starter outclassed.

100 meters. First semi-final heat, three to qualify, Jackson V. Scholz, New York, A. C. first, A. Porritt, New Zealand, second, Loren Murchison, Newark, A. C. third. Time 10.4-5 seconds.

100 meters. Second semi-final heat, Abrahamson, Great Britain, first, Charles Paddock, Los Angeles, second, Chester Bowman, Syracuse, University, third. Time 10.3-5 seconds.

J. G. Coard Taylor, New York, A. C. won the finals in the 400 metre Olympic hurdles.

Robert Legendre, of Newark, N. J., in the Pentathlon, broke the world record for the broad jump with 7.76 metres, equivalent to 25 feet 5 inches. This performance insured him first place in this event. His jump bettered by three inches the former world mark of 25 feet 3 inches, held by E. O. Goulding, of Boston.

400 meters hurdles final F. Murchison Taylor, Grinnell College, Iowa, first, Vilen, Finland, second. Charles Brookings, University of Iowa, was disqualified for a fault at

PECK AND NEWTON FACE STRONG OPPOSITION IN STATE GOLF TOURNAMENT

(By The Associated Press.)
HOT SPRINGS, Va., July 7.—If H. Crim Peck, of Lexington, defending champion and S. R. Newton, of Charlottesville, former titleholder, had hopes of easy opposition in the opening flight of the Virginia State Golf Association's annual tournament, fate in the drawing of pairings ruled otherwise.

Today, Peck and Newton were battling over the home-stead course, each shooting against the other in match play to decide which of the two should survive to continue contesting for the 1924 title.

Newton's spectacular playing in the qualifying round was the outstanding event of the tournament to date. He did not start on the first day, but on Saturday he began early and went the first eighteen holes in 8, one above par. He weakened in the afternoon for an 80.

His card for the entire 36 holes lead all other contestants. Peck and Joe Jamieson, of Roanoke, each scored 158 for second place.

The Lexington star has been playing steady golf. On the first day he shot around the course for a card of 74, which led the field. Saturday, he took three more strokes to complete the round.

Other first flight pairings for the day included: Judge M. Peck, Charlottesville, with Dexter Oley, Lynchburg; Judge M. Peck, Charlottesville, with E. H. Hancock, Lynchburg; E. H. Hancock, Lynchburg, with Paul Jamieson, Roanoke; John Jamieson, Roanoke, with Joe Jamieson, Roanoke; M. W. Paxton, Lexington, former champion, with J. O. Quintance, Charlottesville; John Lisle, Richmond, with W. P. Wood, Richmond, and E. D. Hotchkiss, Jr., Richmond, with A. L. Hawse, Richmond, former middle Atlantic champion. Second flight pairings were C. E. Moran, Charlottesville, with J. H. Lindsey, Charlottesville; W. A. Bagley, with Ashby Jones, Richmond; Randolph Watkins, Richmond, with R. D. Shepherd, J. Allen Wheat, of Charlottesville, with James H. Grant, Richmond; W. B. Rosebro, Richmond, with Tom Seales, Richmond; George W. Stevens, Richmond, with R. W. R. Mason, the "Golfing Parson" of Charlottesville; J. W. Zimmerman, Lexington, with O. W. Lockett, Roanoke, and M. L. Rea, of Charlottesville, with K. D. Scott, of Lynchburg.

These flights, with the others, were for eighteen holes, the first flight in the women's championship tournament was on the program for two o'clock this afternoon. The pairings follow: Mrs. R. C. Churchill, Roanoke, with Miss Margaret Lucado, of Lynchburg, defending champion; Miss Maudie Fleming, Richmond, with Miss Martha Martin, Richmond; Mrs. Lloyd Bullock, Richmond, with Mrs. Allen Belkin, Richmond; and Mrs. Ashby Jones, Richmond, with Mrs. J. W. Zimmerman, Lexington.

Pairings in the second flight were Miss Elizabeth Luce, Richmond, with Miss Lillian Lee Wood, Richmond; Mrs. A. L. Hawse, Richmond, with Miss Virginia Goodwin, Lynchburg; Mrs. C. Arlon McKenney, Richmond, with Miss Lude Elizabeth Wood, Richmond; and Miss Jean Wood, of Richmond, with Mrs. C. M. Guggenheimer, Lynchburg.

CAPS PLAY LOCALS HERE TODAY-TWINS WILL BE HERE LAST THREE DAYS

After a disastrous road trip of a week, the Danville baseball team, this afternoon opens a week at home. Raleigh is here for the first three games. Winston-Salem to be Murphy's guests Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. Today is Ladies' day again at Stonewall Jackson park, and this should bring out a good attendance. Either Lefty Wilson or McWhirter will do the pitching. Myers who was out of the game Saturday because of a severe cold, is expected to be back today. If he is, Wilson will do the box work. If the shortstop is still unable to play, McWhirter will pitch and Wilson will go to centerfield, in order to permit Regan to play short. Cochran will be seen at third. Just who Raleigh will use in the box this afternoon, was not learned this morning. Manager Murphy, who is suffering with an injured leg will be out of the game for another week or ten days. He continues the daily treatment at the hospital and while it is apparently showing some improvement, is yet unable to play ball. Generally found the convention in its second week more of a blight than a blessing. The gathering took on the atmosphere of a visitation from an unwelcome mother-in-law. New York could not do too much for the convention at first. But the metropolis did think the guests would know enough to go home when the party was over. But the delegates have remained on and on and have seriously interfered with the big city's routine. It was thought the convention was going to help business but it has all but killed the theatrical attendance. Everybody has been staying home evenings and listening in on the radio. Never has there been such a persistent long distance continuous radio attraction. Naturally New Yorkers have been interested in the fate of their native son, Al Smith, and this has kept thousands "on the air" that would have long ago passed up the garden performances as dull routine.

There is no doubt that New York

Sao Pauls Still Held By Rebels

(By The Associated Press.)
BUENOS AIRES, July 7.—Sao Paulo, second largest city in Brazil and Capital of the country's wealthiest state, was reported early today to be still in the hands of insurrectionary forces which took possession of the government buildings during Friday and Saturday morning in a sudden uprising marked by sanguinary street fighting.

Owing to the strict censorship imposed by the federal government in Rio de Janeiro and the lack of any communication whatever with Sao Paulo, the causes of the insurrection are thus far unknown here. It appears to be the sufficiently formidable to cause the federal government at Rio de Janeiro to dispatch troops by land and sea as well as air forces to attempt its suppression.

Danville has again slipped two notches below the .500 mark and should be in a fighting mood today. It's funny how, when the even mark is reached, the Tobaccoists slide back again. That spasmoidic baseball bunch insists on feasting, may be all right in a way, but hanged if it will ever get 'em anywhere.

Today is Ladies day and Monday once more, a combination which usually spells defeat for the Danvillians. But the ladies do not seem to get blathered for they continue to flock to the park and if the elements do not prove too threatening, a good attendance is expected this afternoon.

The Tobaccoists were further weakened on Saturday by the absence of Myers on account of illness. Myers is suffering from a sore throat and is, however, it is thought he will be able to play today. Manager Murphy himself will be out of the game for a week or ten days yet. He continues his daily treatment at the hospital for his impaired leg.

The injury and illness came at a time when the locals had gotten into a winning spurt, but were set back again. Tobacco worms taking a slide now and then, if they don't keep it up.

Wilson or McWhirter will pitch today. Manager Murphy says that it depends on whether Myers gets into the game, who pitches. If he doesn't Wilson will have to play center to allow Regan to cavort around short and McWhirter will pitch.

Murphy had a new infielder Wilson, of Memphis, in view. The arrangements had been made and the player was being expected when the local pilot received word that Wilson refused to come, declaring that the league was too small for him.

Lefty Wilson is proving that he can do something else besides pitch. Twice in one inning on Saturday at Greensboro, he made star catches. He reacted to the left and pulled one out of the air and ran to the right next and speared a liner.

Eddie Regan proved that he still has more home runs in him. He speared the ball with a man on in the ninth.

Home runs accounted for every one of the High School's runs today. G. Thrasher got his fifteenth and sixteenth and Townsend, his tenth. Men were on in two cases and the Pointers won.

Youngest Life Guard

Take it from us, there's nothing like a handsome life guard when it comes to attracting the beach beauties. Donald Healy aged 6, is probably the youngest life guard in captivity. He is stationed at Larchmont, N. Y., to safeguard youngsters who bathe there. An excellent swimmer in Don, and very popular with the ladies.

CHILD WELFARE IS MADE PUBLIC DUTY IN SWEDEN

STOCKHOLM, July 5.—Compulsory removal of wayward or depraved children from their homes into public custody, and subsequent supervision up to the age of 18, is provided for in a new law for the care of children which has just been passed by the Riksdag. The law further provides for public care of children who are found to be exposed to undesirable influences and in danger of becoming depraved.

Children removed from their homes by government inspectors and matrons in compliance with this law are placed in government institutions, or in good private homes in the country, where they receive expert training and can grow up in a beautiful surroundings. Social service of a similar sort has been carried on in the cities of Sweden, especially Stockholm, for many years by municipal and state boards, who place the children in desirable homes far out in the country, and pay an annuity of 100 kronor to the parents. In many cases a strong bond of affection grows up between foster parents, which culminates in legal adoption.

Under the new law every city and parish will have a special board for the care of children, including local pastors and teachers as permanent members, while inspectors will travel all over the country for the purpose of observing and controlling individual development. Thousands of country homes receive the children of the city as guests during the summer and send them back to their homes with cheeks round and rosy.

Nation-wide and energetic philanthropic work is also carried on by the Swedish society "Save the Children," the campaign commencing in an annual Children's Day, when large sums are raised in order to provide summer vacations in children's colonies by the seaside, and in some cases on islands especially reserved.

FOREIGN STATES INVITED TO "OLD HICKORY" REUNION

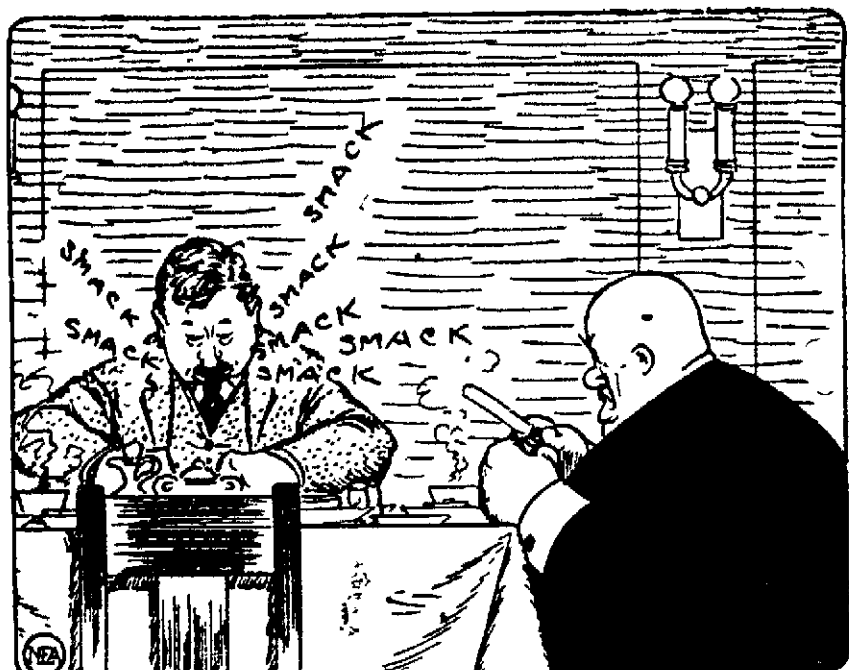

CHARLESTON, S. C., July 5.—Plans are nearing completion for the annual reunion here, August 12 and 13, of veterans of the Thirtieth Division, popularly known as the "Old Hickory," which shares with the Twenty-seventh Division of New York, the honor of breaking the Hudson line in northern France. Major J. D. E. Meyer, United States marshal for the eastern district of South Carolina and himself an "Old Hickory" veteran, is general chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Although the Thirtieth Division was originally composed of the National Guard organizations of North and South Carolina and Tennessee, thousands of men from other states passed through its ranks in the course of the war, many of them being replacements to take the place of the battle casualties.

Some who have ventured the suggestion that those who are contemplating matrimony should reveal the past to each other and thereby eliminate the possibilities of the divorce court later. Guesses, if they did that there would be no need for divorce courts, because there wouldn't be any more marriages.

SALE OF OLD PAPERS RECALLS ROMANTIC GREYNA GREEN DAYS

LONDON, July 5.—Something of the romance of Greytna Green, the little Scottish village that for more than 100 years has been the haven for couples who for one reason or another, could not be married in England, was brought to light recently in a London auction room when the original marriage certificates of nearly 1,200 runaway couples, extending over the period 1825-1854, were sold for $1,400.

Among the most romantic of the marriages, the certificate of which was among those sold, was that of Prince Carlo Borbone, younger brother of King Ferdinand II of the Two Sicilies, to Penelope Carolyn Smith of Waterford, Ireland, in 1836. The couple first lived in Naples and were expelled. They fled to Rome and were married there, but later, upon visiting the bridegroom's sister, the queen regent of Spain, found themselves ostracized, and were again married at Madrid. When they arrived in England, they were advised to go through another ceremony at Greytna Green and finally, to placate the hostility of English society, they were married for the fourth time at St. George's, Hanover Square, London.

Another romantic marriage was that of Lady Adela Corisidale Maud Villiers, daughter of the Earl of Jersey, who eloped in 1845 with Captain Charles Parker Ibbeson. It was a coincidence that the bride's grandmother, Miss Sarah Child, daughter of the founder of Child's Bank, had also been married at Greytna Green to Lord Westmoreland, and had been pursued by her father, who was only persuaded to give up the chase when one of the horses drawing his coach had been shot by his prospective son-in-law.

Other runaway marriages brought to light at the sale included that of Ellen Turner, a schoolgirl, to Edward Gibbon Wakefield, who was sentenced for abduction after parliament had by a special act annulled the ceremony; Lady Rose Somerset, daughter of the seventh Earl of Beaufort, to Captain Francis Lovell, in 1836. Miss Carolyn Clayton to Lord Drumlanrig, afterwards seventh Marquis of Queensbury, in 1849.

MONOCLES AND HORN GLASSES NO LONGER THE GERMAN VOGUE

BERLIN, July 5.—Fashion's decree for German men this summer condemns the smooth shaven face so much in vogue since the war, when the upturned Kaiser moustaches went out. Now the Berliner of mode must wear the little military toothbrush bunch of hair on his upper lip, and also abandon the monocle. With the single eye glass the horn rimmed spectacle is banished, and gentlemen are supposed to wear the conventional and unobtrusive gold or rimless glasses.

They also are warned to wear four-hand ties fully exposed and not to tuck them in between the second and third shirt buttons as of old. The colored silk handkerchief is tabooed and white linen is required. But with these conformities to the conservative fashions of the west, comes a vogue among the ultra set for high heeled shoes of the old Cuban style.

Obregon Crosses Border

RIGA, Latvia, July 5.—Seasickness is a great handicap to the activities of the Soviet navy, says naval expert Lukashevich in an article in the Soviet press discussing the necessity for long-distance cruising for the Red Fleet.

It is impossible, the writer says, to speak about the preparedness of the fleet unless it has had practical experience with such cruising. At present the Soviet fleet is manned by young factory workers and he expressed the belief that more than half the crew would be put out of action through seasickness in their first acquaintance with wind and waves.

In the Caspian sea during the Civil War, Lukashevich added, seasickness disabled 80 per cent. of the crews, and the remainder had the greatest difficulty in saving the ships.

AMERICA'S LEAD IN POULTRY CONCEDED BY MINISTER

LONDON, July 5.—In proposing the health of the American and Canadian delegates to the world poultry congress recently held in Barcelona, who were entertained by the British government here, Minister of Agriculture Noel Britton admitted that America and Canada were ahead of Great Britain in poultry culture, but he added that he was proud of the fact that Great Britain's breeding stock was in demand in other lands.

Britain, he said, had not developed her poultry industry sufficiently to meet her own demands, but she supplied the market for other people. The British government, the speaker concluded, was very grateful to America for the courtesy shown to their representative, A. P. Francis, on the occasion of his visit to the United States last year for research work in poultry culture.

COWS IN HOLLAND ARE TREATED AS HUMANS

BY JOHN ASHFORD.

THE HAGUE, July 5.—Cows in Holland are treated with as much consideration as human beings. They have the best of food. Their sheds are furnished. They even have overcoats when they go out.

There are lace curtains in the windows of many Dutch cowsheds. Very often the American cow has not even a window. And the floors are laid with shining white tile, kept spotlessly clean.

Least her tail should drag in the dirt, the Dutch cow has it held up by a neat chain from the roof. Her horns are scrubbed and polished. She is carefully groomed.

As she stands eight months of the year indoors, perhaps these comforts are necessary. To lighten the darkness of winter the cowshed is provided with electric light. There is also some kind of heating system.

The Dutch spring is generally cold and windy. Their store, when the lucky Dutch cow is turned out to graze in May, she is well wrapped up. The pampered animal must not catch cold.

The sheer cleanliness of everything connected with the cowshed should be an example to American farmers. Everything, from the shining milk pails to the beautifully carved milking stools, is as clean as it is humanly possible to make it.

There is a farm in Holland where pigs are kept—and where each pig has a sort of little bathroom attached to its sty. The modern hotel, with its bathroom for every bedroom, is not so wonderful after all.

A Cleveland, (O.) physician suggests musical calls, instead of letters, for broadcasting stations.

JAPS ASSERT BOLSHIEVISM AND UNREST GROW

SEOUL, July 5.—Unrest is increasing in Korea and rebellious elements, inclining to bolshievism and communism, are growing in strength, according to a statement issued recently by the Korean government-general here.

The statement says the Japanese authorities in Korea have good reason to fear insurgency and bolshievism within the next few years, and have decided to reinforce the gendarmerie in the peninsula and the guards along the northern frontier.

The outstanding development in this connection, the statement declares, has been a move to unify numerous local bodies, ostensibly labor or religious associations, for the secret propagation of seditious or bolshievist ideas. The Japanese authorities have listed 171 such organizations, and ordered the dissolution of the majority of these.

LYNCH RECORD FOR FIRST SIX MONTHS

The following statistics on lynching for the first six months of the year 1924 have been compiled by the department of records and research of Tuskegee Institute.

Total number lynched 5

Offenses charged:

Rape 2

Attempted rape 1

Killing officer of the law 1

Record by states:

Florida 2

Georgia 2

South Carolina 1

Comparison of records:

First 6 months of 1924 5

First 6 months of 1923 15

First 6 months of 1922 30

First 6 months of 1921 36

It is gratifying to note that the record thus far for the year 1924 is the lowest for the first six months of any of the forty years during which the record has been kept. It is an encouraging sign of progress toward the elimination of this evil, which is condemned by public opinion. It is an indication of the growing sentiment against lawlessness in general, and in my judgment a result of the spread and influence of interracial co-operation. All of the persons lynched were negroes.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, July 7.—Substantial improvement in stock prices marked the opening of today's market as many traders returned to Wall street after a prolonged holiday. "Big Four" and West Pennsylvania Power jumped four points each and American Water Works one point, all to new high levels for the year.

Persistent buying of "Big Four" which extended its gain to nine points, touching a new 1924 record at 129, had a stimulating effect on railroad shares generally. Gains ranging from 1 to 2 points were scored by Atlantic Coast Line, Great Northern pfd., Northern Pacific, Norfolk and Western and Chesapeake and Ohio.

Renewed accumulation of industrial issues brought corresponding advances in Bethlehem Steel, International Paper, Con Edison and California Petroleum. Foreign exchanges opened steady.

NEW YORK COTTON.

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, July 7.—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 8 to 15 points today in response to the relatively easy showing of Liverpool over the local holiday. July eased off to 28.61 and October to 28.86 in the first few minutes but the market steadied on covering prompted by a complaint of further rain in eastern sections. July rallied to 28.75 and October to 28.95 and the market was about net unchanged to 8 points lower toward the end of the first hour. Except for the talk of excessive rains in eastern belt sections, weather conditions were considered generally favorable.

MORNING STOCK LETTER.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Nothing has occurred to change our view. If you were optimistic last week, there is no reason why you should be less so now. The greatest trouble with most of us is that we are in such a great hurry. If we reach the conclusion that some stock is worth some ten or 20 points more, we want that price immediately, but things do not work that way.

You have to give it time. The main thing is to know that you are on the right side, and incidentally we should not lose patience about business recovery. It is quiet now and this is the time of year for it to be quiet. Within two months you will see a change. We won't even have the normal disturbance from a presidential campaign.

Buy stocks at every opportunity.

Everyman's Investments

Fortieth Article.
Public Utilities.

Not including railroads there is invested in the public utilities of the United States about $17,000,000,000 of which sum approximately $6,000,000,000 is invested in electric light and power companies. At the present rate of growth these electric companies require about $1,000,000,000 a year of new money for betterments and extensions to meet the continually increasing demand for electricity. We have here the best of foundations for sound investment. Securities of a growing business that has never been able to keep up with the demand for its product are obviously desirable. Of course bonds of these companies are the most conservative investments but in many cases electric light and power preferred stocks command a high rating.

One of the larger investment houses recently made a special investigation of the preferred issues of these electric light and power companies. Records of corporations with gross earnings of $2,000,000 a year or more were analyzed, the companies concerned representing about 90 per cent. of the investment in the industry. The analysis showed that cash dividends were being paid for all the first preferred stocks of these companies. In no case were there any accumulated back dividends. Out of these preferred stocks $3 have never missed dividends. Fifteen had at one time or another deferred a dividend but all the fifteen had made it up later.

Supervision by State utility commissions has exercised a stabilizing influence on the business of the electric light and power industry. The making of rates for electric service has been put upon a fair scientific basis. On the one hand the corporation is not allowed to over-charge and on the other hand the rates established are such as to allow a fair return on the investment. The industry has become a healthy condition existed as at present. Bonds and preferred stocks of well-managed electric light and power companies ought to form part of every investment list.

MORNING COTTON LETTER.

(Thomson & McKinnon.)

NEW YORK, July 7.—Cables from Georgia and Alabama had scattered rains over the holiday, showers in West Texas.

Forecast is for showers generally over central and eastern belt, partly cloudy west.

Sentiment is bearish on account of the government report and lower prices are generally expected. But shorts should keep an eagle eye on the weather map. Continued rains in the Atlantic States would be regarded as favoring the weevil and should act as a break.

GERMAN SNAKE SLEPT WHILE THIEVES STOLE THEIR BROTHER

HAMBURG, July 5.—The largest bronze snake in Germany, which occupied a prominent place in Carl Heinrich's animal farm near Hamburg, was stolen recently by thieves who, the police said, would probably sell the statue for old metal. The bronze snake stood on a pedestal in the center of the snake yard, which is a kind of jungle, so that the inhabitants might be reminded of their native haunts and feel perfectly at home.

The management believed that the snake was better than watch dogs to guard this valuable piece of statuary, but the thieves apparently had no fear of the thousands of reptiles within the enclosure, and escaped with their loot without anything more than being hissed at.

The REFEREE

BY ALBERT APPLE.

STUMPED

In a recent week, with business supposed to be dull, the nation's bank clearings totaled $87 for every $50 of bank checks sent through the clearing houses in the corresponding week of last year—when times were booming.

People haven't been spending more than in 1923. They haven't been on any orgy of paying bills. Prices haven't been higher to show up in the form of inflated clearings. If you can explain the gain, step to the head of the class. The business experts are stumped.

TAXED

Groans from railroads because they paid national and state taxes of over $900,000 a day in 1923, or three times as much as before the war. The railroads don't really pay this. The public pays. Railroads are simply collectors for Uncle Sam and the states. This is the fly in the ointment, to critics who delight to have the roads heavily taxed.

SCARED

All past records are being broken in the amount of life insurance taken out by the American people. So far this year there has been a fifth more life insurance has been written than in 1923, when a new record was hung up. If the rate continues, the 1924 total of new policies will be 11 billion dollars.

There was a time when this would have indicated 11 billion dollars of fear. Now it represents 11 billions of sensible investment—the surest and easiest way to save.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

By HARRY R. HUNT

NEW YORK, July 7.—The Democratic National Convention just about out New York theatres out of business.

Theatrical managers, who had hoped to reap a rich harvest from convention visitors, found their houses deserted instead of filled. Even liberal distribution of free "paper" failed to fill the seats and give a semblance of business.

Within the first week of the convention, more than ten theatres—several of which had opened specially to provide entertainment for the Democratic delegates—had shut up shop. The receipts from tickets had not been enough to pay the electric light bills.

One explanation is that New York itself was a show to most of the visitors. There were enough places to go and enough things to see to keep them busy and entertained outside the theatres.

Then the city fathers themselves, from Mayor Hylan down, had provided a lot of special entertainments that were worth while and which had the additional attractiveness of not costing anything.

"Why pay money to be entertained when you can be entertained for nothing—with food thrown in?" the delegates asked.

Least but not least the Al-Smith boosters in his old home town stood ready to stage a party or throw a feed for any delegate who should accept their hospitality. And these weren't theatre parties.

Then, of course, there was the big show at the Garden. Even New Yorkers lost interest in Broadway's plays when it could see something much more theatrical, and holding a maximum of suspended interest, down at the convention hall.

Anybody that says "national convention" to a Broadway theatre manager within the next generation will be a brave man.

While the convention offered entertainment to New York—such part as could get a ticket to even one of the many sessions—convention visitors provided an equally interesting study to the delegates from the hinterland.

One of the most regular visitors, for instance, was Mrs. F. Belmont, whose presence day by day and night by night conveyed to the delegates a hint of the wide variety in gowns and jewels possessed by New York's ultra-ultra set.

Occupying a box to the left of the national committee's pier, Mrs. Belmont came early and stayed late through every session. Her pearls and diamonds eclipsed the most brilliant gems of Democratic strategy, and they had the additional merit of variety and cash value.

Just a few of the jeweled sawdusts that intrigued the fancy of delegates, who wondered how they were going to pay their hotel bills if the deadlock held out, were: A diamond chain suspending a pearl pendant as large as a hickory nut; a seven-strand pearl dog collar; a diamond and pearl bracelet of four strands and carrying matched black pearls the size of filberts.

There were other displays of gowns and jewels, of course, but none more varied nor so regularly exhibited as Mrs. Belmont's.

While the Democratic deadlock dragged along, with the final outcome growing more and more uncertain, word came to the convention that the Republican William Jennings Bryan had decided to tip off the secret that he has been chosen to head the G. O. P. ticket.

What the convention most desired at that time, however, was for some lock held out, were: A diamond chain suspending a pearl pendant as large as a hickory nut; a seven-strand pearl dog collar; a diamond and pearl bracelet of four strands and carrying matched black pearls the size of filberts.

For while the Democrats were deadlocked, the Republicans were getting a running start on their campaign.

If the delegates to the Democratic National Convention don't soon break the deadlock, William Jennings Bryan may make a come-back by performing the miracle of the loaves and fishes.

In New York

NEW YORK, July 7.—What would you do if you had $2,000,000. So would I. I'm sure!

Yet I know a man here in New York, who has $2,000,000 and leads the most drab existence you can imagine.

He doesn't even keep office hours or mix in any business to help while away the hours of the day.

No oftener than once a week does he, at night, leave the apartment on upper Broadway which, with his aged mother, he has occupied for 30 years.

When but a boy in his teens he was left an income of $25,000 a year by a dotting grandparent.

He spent it lavishly in an unsuccessful effort to have a "good time."

Twenty years ago his father died and left him an added fortune. The father left the widow an even larger estate.

For 20 years this man has not remained away from New York longer than 12 days at one time.

He was fearful lest sharpers prey on his mother's assets.

His daily routine is golf in the morning, lunch with the same crowd of men at a mid-town hotel each noon, the afternoon spent watching the ticker report of the stock market, in which he never has invested a cent.

Each evening he dines at home. One night each week he calls on a girl he has known for years. He is single.

Perhaps you have the impression by now he is a tightwad. He isn't. But he is a masculine old maid!

He has one failing. About twice a year he falls into a periodic drinking spree. It usually lasts three weeks, ending in a hotel suite with two nurses and a doctor attending him.

This one beats anything seen or heard about New York today.

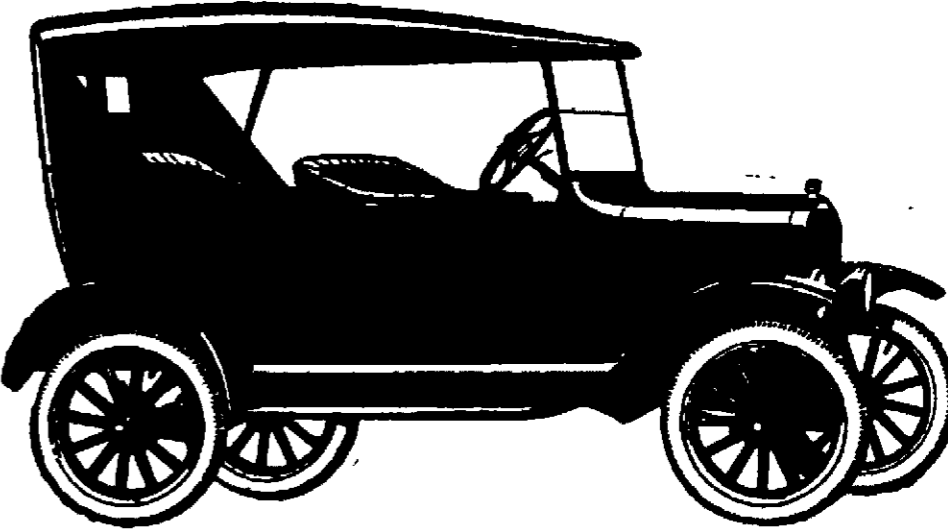

It is offered by a belle of Galesburg, Ill., returning from a vacation. "The innovation in Galesburg," she relates, "is the modern milkman who hauls his cow around in a truck. He goes to the front porch of the different homes on the main residential street, gathers the milk bottles, and milks the cow in front of the house."

It would require several cows to the block if this system were followed in crowded New York!

HALF FAIL TO VOTE.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Almost 50 per cent. of the qualified voters of the United States fail to exercise their voting privilege, researches of Simon Michelet, a Washington lawyer, reveal. The largest vote ever cast for president was in 1920, when the total vote for all presidential candidates was 26,713,832.
